

What is the future of Europe?
How do we help build a more just and peaceful world?
Where does the EU fit in all of this?

Sign up for the QCEA Study Tour
(22-30 April 2006)

The Quaker Council for European Affairs (QCEA) Study Tour provides the perfect opportunity to learn, discuss and reflect on what Europe means to you.

The Study Tour will include visits to the various European Institutions in Brussels & Luxembourg; meetings with MEPs; informative sessions with NGOs; and interactive discussions about security, peace, justice and human rights.*

We guarantee eight days of learning and fun, providing fresh insights and perspectives on all things European and the work QCEA does to promote a Quaker vision of Europe.

One thing I thought that really benefited this study tour was the fact that there were people from different European countries; this meant that we could see points of view from different countries and not just look at the Institutions from a British viewpoint. ... This tour is a must for all of those who want to learn more about European Institutions. – Mark O'Neill (2005 participant)

Being a 'Quaker' Study Tour made it all the more valuable. I found myself being questioned by the non-Quakers in the group - how does the worship of Quakers relate to the political work? – Katy Ellerton (2005 participant)

The cost (excluding travel to Brussels) is €510 for guesthouse accommodation or €375 for youth hostel accommodation. Bursaries may be available.

The Study Tour is open to Quakers or those in sympathy with the Religious Society of Friends and who will be at least 18 years old by the start of the Tour.
